Cornwall

What do you fancy doing whilst in Cornwall?
There's plenty to choose from.

From iconic sandy beaches to intimate sheltered coves, Cornwall's 300+ beaches are gloriously varied. Dog friendly, family friendly, perfect for surfing, golden, pebbly, bustling or blissfully empty.

Cornwall is so fabulously diverse, from picturesque fishing villages to tin mines and ancient stone monuments – reminders of its Celtic heritage.

Tales of piracy and smuggling will fascinate the explorer of Cornwall's past in lonely engine houses, hidden smuggling coves, great manor houses and castles. There is just so much to see and do in Cornwall, that one holiday is just never enough!

And if you love food, Cornwall is packed full of flavour!

Wales

Aside from the incredible opportunities which Snowdonia presents, Wales provides beautiful beaches and coastlines which are perfect for laid back family holidays, or for unwinding after a more active trip.

Also not to be missed are the castles which demonstrate Wales' hugely interesting history as a hotly contested area.

South Wales, home to stunning beaches, beautiful countryside and Cardiff, the capital city of Wales, is a perfect place to go on holiday, whether you're looking for a family friendly destination, a romantic getaway, or breath-taking scenery for a walking trip. There's plenty to do outside of the cities as well though; the coastline is incredible, with miles of beaches to choose from, perfect for those with a love of the great outdoors, and the Welsh valleys provide an interesting glimpse into social history.

Eastern England

The East of England is a richly diverse area, made up of the counties of Cambridgeshire, Bedfordshire, Norfolk, Suffolk, Hertfordshire, Lincolnshire and Essex, with plenty of great holiday activities and destinations.

With ready access to both the coast and the countryside there's so much to do in the East of the country, whether you're looking for a family friendly seaside holiday park, easy access to idyllic towns and villages, or an unspoilt countryside setting for camping and touring.

Where the East really comes into its own though is as a base from which to visit a selection of vibrant cities; from the historical splendour of Cambridge to the bustling city centres of more modern cities there's something for everyone, and with London merely a drive away there's always the opportunity to visit the country's capital city.

Riverside Caravan Park

Touring & Holiday Home Park • Lancashire/Yorkshire/Cumbria border

Riverside Caravan Park has been owned by the Marshall family since its development from a green field in the late 1960s. It has been developed into a fantastic family caravan park offering a very safe environment accessed via a private road.

In an attractive secluded, level location on the banks of the River Wenning, the park is within walking distance of the small market town of High Bentham. There are excellent walks along the riverbank and in the surrounding countryside and, for the more active-minded, the "Yorkshire Three Peaks" are very close by. Anglers can enjoy coarse fishing on the lake and game fishing on the River Wenning.

A Camperclean station has recently been installed, emptying, cleaning and refilling your toilet holding tank for you. No fuss, no mess, no blue hands.
